Heart Killer At Large Requires All-Out Hunt

By Oliver Emswirth

On a recent Sunday afternoon our next door neighbor called. Said she, "I've something sad to tell you." Then she told of a friend who a few minutes before had dropped dead in his home.

This friend had had a heart attack about three years ago. He recuperated somewhat. Then came the sudden, fatal attack that caused this neighbor to call the friends in the area.

This true story could be repeated as the personal experience of many people, millions in the United States, thousands in Mississippi. Proof of this statement is found in the vital statistics of our state, for this killer and crippler of men — heart disease — accounted for 10,199 of the 20,890 deaths in Mississippi last year.

What are we supposed to do when a neighbor calls to say that a friend has suddenly died of heart disease and caused a happy home to be fatherless and husbandless? Is it enough to send flowers, attend the funeral and express condolence? Should we not become more determined to help halt this tragedy and prevent grief from entering other homes nearby and around the country?

If a jungle beast escaped from any municipal zoo in our state, every person in Mississippi would be tense. Armed searchers would hunt for it in the woodlands for they would know it to be a killer. Then, how can we nonchalantly accept the harvest of this killer, heart trouble, without arming trained hunters to scour the country-side? But researching is what professional heart research personnel really do. They are men and women armed with the known facts of the human heart who search earnestly for new facts with which to track down this killer.

Only by tracking down this killer can we halt the deaths and the crippling effects of heart diseases. And we should never forget, not for a moment, that many little children are crippled by diseased and injured hearts.

During the past fiscal year the Heart Fund accumulated the sum of $169,482 in Mississippi. This was splendid. But even more funds must be collected to further the causes of heart research, heart education and heart rehabilitation programs. This is why February is designated as "Heart Month" in America.

The big task is to learn more about the hearts of men. Research is the power of relief. With research and education there will be a diminished need for rehabilitation. But facts about the heart are hard facts — hard facts to learn. Investigation is costly. Therefore, the challenge becomes personal to every person.

It is through personal contributions to the Heart Fund that the campaign against tragedy can be waged.

During the past decade tens of thousands of Mississippians have heard it said, "Bill died a few minutes ago. He suffered a heart attack."

Let's face the truth. Is it enough for responsible people to hear such reports and then feel that a responsibility has been met simply by expressing condolence to the widow and children?

Research, citizenship and Christian love impel us to continue to search for the means by which men's hearts can be protected. In this spirit we can hope that this time will come when it will not be the sad mission of neighbors to call mutual friends and say, "Bill died of a heart attack a few minutes ago."

Kantcha Ketchum

According to reports not much fishing of any kind just now. Over last weekend Tony Morante and son Nino with Morris Daniels Jr. of New Orleans did some fresh water fishing with no avail.

Yours Truly spent last week in New Orleans and went fishing at Seminole Ponds Saturday but was rained out. He was with Joe Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence La Fontaine and Bert Thornton, down Clermont Harbor way, ardent fishermen are waiting for good weather and good water to do some fishing, crabbing, etc.

Saw Judge Ed Haggerty — sends regards to friends here.

Dan Haggerty, Big Joe and associates in the Court House in New Orleans plan a fishing trip over here soon. They are waiting for the speckles to start striking out at the Keys.

Ate lunch in the prison cafeteria in New Orleans last Tuesday with Chief Clerk Kelly, quite an experience.

Commissioner Jim McConnell of the New Orleans Game and Fish Commission asked about friends here. Said he will be over soon to do some fishing.

Pearl River is still rising and water bad. Will be a while yet before fishing in the river will be back to normal.

Perch fishermen in Bayou St. John in the heart of New Orleans were catching nice size green trout Monday. Some fishermen were using fly rods and others perch poles, worms and dead shrimp. Couldn't believe it!

Hope to have some better news next week if conditions improve. Kantcha Ketchum will still go on.

It was announced that flood stage will be topped by 9/4 feet on the Pearl River at Jackson Wednesday. Flood stage is 18 feet and the weather bureau predicted the river would crest at 28.8 feet.

Perre Quintini caught some nice green trout over the weekend — Don't know where.

Post Office Department Stress Law Enforcement On Mail Obscenity

An important new policy statement on the Post Office Department's program in the field of law enforcement against mail obscenity — emphasizing enforcement without fanfare — has been issued by Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

The statement, which applies to the whole anti-obscenity program, was issued specifically in connection with the sentencing on January 27, 1961, in Federal Court in Washington, D. C. of Herman L. Womack of Washington and Alfred J. Heinicke of Lakewood, N. J., on charges of conspiring to use the mails in the transmittal of obscene material.

Here is the text of Mr. Day's statement:

"We in the Post Office Department are gratified at the sentences given today to these serious offenders who have been convicted of using the mails to transmit obscene material."

"We have underway plans for the toughest 'crack-down' ever conducted for such violators of the laws against mailing 'pornographic material.' Hereafter our program will be that use by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other highly successful law enforcement agencies in that our drive will be conducted without fanfare. We will concentrate our available manpower and funds on apprehending violators."

"Our public statement on the pornography program will largely be confined to comments on actual results achieved and convictions obtained."

"Needless to say, we seek the assistance of the public in general in reporting receipt of illegally mailed material. We are confident that the general public realizes that there are laws against this type of conduct, and that the other law enforcement agencies throughout the country are working to enforce these laws."

Mississippi Receives Addition of $1,000,000 For Operating Loans

Advice was received today from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman that Mississippi has been allocated an additional $1,000,000 to be used in making operating loans to farmers who are unable to secure adequate credit from conventional sources. This allocation was made from a contingency fund authorized by Congress for the 1961 fiscal year and supplements the $6,700,000 which was allotted to the State previously.

State Director T. B. Fatherree reports that the demand for operating loans in Mississippi during this year has been the greatest on record. At the time the additional allocation was received, there were funds available for less than one week's loan requests. He stated that the additional funds will make it possible to serve all those who are eligible and need this type of assistance.

Operating loans are processed through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration and may be used to pay for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer, tractor fuel, and other farm and home operating needs, and to refinance chattel debts. The loans are scheduled for repayment in accordance with the borrowers ability to repay over a period not exceeding seven years. The interest rate is 5 percent.

The Farmers Home Administration office in Hancock is located in the Agricultural Center Building on Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

CONSTRUCTION TOTALS IN 1960

As a result of an intensive recruiting effort, the Mississippi National Guard had a net gain of 315 men in January.

In an effort to attain full authorized strength, all units were encouraged to step up their recruiting program on January 1. ## Forestry Notes

JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi, holder of the number one position in the nationwide tree farm program, certified 285 more properties last year bringing its total to 2,674, according to John W. Thompson of Natchez, tree farm chairman of the Mississippi Forestry Association.

Thompson said that Mississippi has held the national lead for more than 5 years. At present Mississippi is 884 tree farms ahead of Alabama, its nearest competitor.

"The idea of the tree farm program is to publicly recognize landowners who are practicing good forestry," Thompson said. "Each tree farm is a privately owned tract of timberland which has been dedicated to the continuous production of useful forest products," he said. Tree farmers agree to plant their idle acres to trees and to protect their land from fire, insects, and overgrazing.

The program is sponsored in this state by the Mississippi Forestry Association, an organization of individuals and companies interested in better forestry. Nationally, the program is sponsored by American Forest Products Industries. Thompson explained that foresters with wood-using industries and personnel of state and federal agencies dealing with forestry cooperate in the program and are due much credit for its continued success.

Thompson said that any timberland owner who has been practicing good forestry and would like to dedicate his lands to continuous timber production is invited to become a tree farmer. Application blanks are available from the offices of all agencies whose work touches on forestry. Application blanks may also be obtained from MFA headquarters, Suite 447 - King Edward Hotel. The latest group to become tree farmers listed by Thompson are Phillips Brothers, Timber Company and all of Eupora; Bay St. Louis; Adams, Tenn.; Stevens, Sumner; Rte 3, Iuka; and Walcutt and Hoston Keith, Walnut.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

O. O. SWOODE
County Agent

May may not be the month in pastures but the getting ready month which is really a month. About the most pasture job you can do in February is when the dock cattle make the first wean. I recommend one pound per acre sprayed when the temperature is about 60 degrees. You do not have Crim, Vetch, Winter Peas, Clover in the pasture spraying is to be done. I would like to have a pasture in 1961 there are a few things that I would recommend: (1) lime and fertilizer control (2) management of the pasture (3) control of overgrazing and (4) control of weeds.

planted corn usually the highest yields. In the Station test, average yields have been severely when the corn was planted after April 30th. Insects cause problems are more in later planted corn and risk is increased. Plant 6 weeks before cotton time. This will permit cultivate the corn before seeds you.

Seed is a good investment. 65% of the corn in Mississippi was planted last year. We need about three and a half million more bushels of seed in Mississippi if we would plant an hybrid. If every farmer could expect about $2.50 invested in seed, I bet he would plant corn.

DAIRY NOTES

are too many dry cows in dairy herd during the winter. You can stop this by using fall freshening. A record of breeding dates. Bred about 60 to 70 days after calving for next calf. Unless you are having breeding trouble, this will give you a calf about every 12 to 13 months.

Give your cows a 60-day period, and condition the animal for the next lactation.

Feed your fresh cows a little extra. Even a good roughage, most heavy producing fresh cows are underfed.

And if your cows, under good management and feed conditions, will not produce milk profitably for 10 months, they have no place in your herd.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT

Chickens must have water. Don't let it freeze! Bury your water lines. Keep the water running, or let it drip. Wrap risers with heating cable.

For layers, try heating cable in water troughs. On broilers, keep the house at 70 degrees.

For clean eggs, use clean, dry litter. Good ventilation is the answer.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

MARCIA P. HUGHES
Home Demonstration Agent

Many cotton fabrics are given a resin finish to make them wrinkle resistant. This makes the fabric hard to press, to press in hemlines, to press, darts and seams and to remove wrinkles. The crease that forms on the fold in a bolt of fabric is hard to remove.

Heat, pressure and moisture alone will not remove the creases. Research at Auburn University has found that through use of formic acid or white vinegar you can move the yarns in the finish enough to remove wrinkles or even put in creases.

Since on some fabrics acid may damage the fabric as well as remove the resin, use carefully. It might be well to use on a scrap first, testing effect on color.

To remove wrinkles, make a 10 percent solution of formic acid or vinegar solution. You will need a medicine dropper, iron and ironing board.

1. Iron wrinkled fabric area with steam iron first, making the surface area hot.

2. Apply the solution over the wrinkled area with a medicine dropper.

3. Let stand for a minute or two until the solution is absorbed.

4. Then run the iron over the area until it is dry. Repeat the process if the wrinkle doesn't come out.

To put in creases, try this process. Use it when sewing on real finish cotton to get sharp creases and edges on hems, seams, facings and collars, and for permanent pleats.

1. Press in pleat as you want it to look when finished.

2. Along the edges of the pleat, apply the acid solution with medicine dropper. Press until dry.

3. Press the under edge of pleat in the same way from the wrong side.

4. Press entire garment or pleats, then let hang undisturbed for 4 or 5 hours.

FLOWER NOTES

In setting rose bushes, be sure to have a mound of soil in the bottom of the hole. Spread roots over the mound.

Transplant perennials as Canterbury bells, pansy, hollyhock, Oriental poppy, columbine, foxglove and English ivy. Dig, divide and reset chrysanthemums, chacha daisy, aster and gallardia.

Don't hesitate to combine perennials and annuals in the same flower bed. Let the perennials serve as the "permanent" plants, with annuals for seasonal change of interest and color.

Hardy annuals you can plant about time you put corn in the garden are calendula, phlox, larkspur, clarkia, candytuft, snapdragon, petunia and calliopais. You may want to start annuals indoors, and transplant to flower garden later in spring.

NEW RECORDS COULD BE SET

As winter passes and spring approaches farmers are looking forward to a year of high farm production and improved cash returns as a larger cotton acreage will be planted. Cattlemen start the new year with the largest herds, and efforts toward herd improvement continue. The state's poultry industry continues its spectacular growth, and hog production is growing steadily. Production of rice and soybeans, both dependable cash crops, is on the increase. Given favorable weather, Mississippi farmers could set some new records in production and income in 1961.

Additional Funds For Farm Housing

An additional $60 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans. State Director T. B. Fatherree announced today.

He said that the new loan funds assure an adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available. Farm housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service buildings.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration in Bay St. Louis, Miss. Mr. Fatherree said. The loans bear 4 per cent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years. The major demand in Mississippi is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses, and most of the funds are used for new construction. Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating, and pressure water systems, the addition of bathrooms and the moderniza-

IMPORTANT ASPECT OF COTTON PROGRESS

Further proof that science is the farmer's indispensable partner is reflected in the results of 1960 cotton breeding and variety testing work which points up the importance of good varieties in obtaining higher yields. Research experts have reported their findings from ten locations throughout the hill and Delta areas of the state. In some cases, the top variety in tests produced yields worth $100 per acre more than the poorest variety when grown under the same conditions.

Research Provides Recommendations For Weed Control

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. — Chemical weed control, one of the newest advancements in farm science, requires careful attention in the use of materials and equipment if the practice is to be successful.

For this reason, agricultural research and educational agencies have pooled their efforts to provide Mississippi farmers with the latest information on the subject. The Agricultural Experiment Station has published 1961 Weed Control Recommendation in the February issue of Mississippi
Farm Research. The Extension
Farm Research, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and State Plant Board personnel worked with Experiment Station staff members in the preparation of these recommendations. They offer the following caution:

"Chemicals are not intended to replace sound management practices, but to supplement them. It should not be expected that a herbicide will in all ways be better than other means of weed control. It may be more effective, less expensive, or require less labor, but will not necessarily have all these advantages."

"These recommendations are based on the results of studies conducted by State and Federal research workers over several years and are believed to be safe and effective methods of weed control. Certain hazards and precautions are pointed out and an understanding of these common sense rules is necessary to derive full benefit from these recommendations."

"The recommendations cover use of chemicals to control weed in cotton, corn, soybeans, small grains, pastures, sorghum, rice, vegetables, lawns and forests.
They include the common name as well as the botanical name of weeds to be controlled, and identify the chemicals to be used.
A copy of the recommendations may be obtained on request from the Experiment Station at State College."

STATE'S GULF COAST IS BRIGHT SPOT

Mississippi's Gulf Coast is one of the bright spots business wise. Due to increasing tourist, shipbuilding, and seafood industries, the steady development of an Air Force Base, and rising influx of retired people from the North attracted to its climate, the Mississippi Gulf Coast has continued to grow at a rapid rate. Plus its permanent population, the Gulf Coast's near subtropical climate attracts in ever increasing numbers tourists and vacationers throughout the year.

AND A SUNTAN

Electricity helps entertain you on TV and radio. It helps you clean, wash and cook. Even offers you a special lamp for a winter suntan.
Ever stop to count all the electric appliances serving you right now in your home? You have surprised how many there are!
Best of all, they do their work for only pennies an hour, three a day. Yes, electricity is just about the best bargain you can get these days!

Somehow we don't think of the baby's basinet as a "scientific development." But it is.

It has been designed to protect a child from exterior hazards—and from himself.

Religion isn't what we would call "scientific." But it, too, embraces this theory of double protection.

The man or woman who worships God faithfully is prepared for the unexpected crises in life. And his mature conscience is ready to cope with temptation.

This isn't to say that nothing ever goes wrong for the ardent church-goer. But he meets each outward or inward challenge with adequate spiritual resources.

There are compelling reasons why you need the Church and its undergirding strength. And for every one that is evident today, there are others you'll confront tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

James Research Grants Only to Top Scientists

Dr. Albert A. Sabin of his University of Cincinnati laboratory examines samples of his live-virus anti-polio vaccine, developed by him with $1,500,000 in March of Dimes public contributions. Sabin's vaccine, to be taken orally instead of by needle, has been approved for eventual use in the U. S.

The most of it. We do not dump millions into hundreds of projects with a vague hope that by the law of averages some may produce.

In short, we try to be as careful in the selection of research projects as an extremely fussy woman is in selection of a spring hat.

The research future is bright. With laboratory methods that have been developed, many under March of Dimes grants, we can move farther and faster than in years past. Indeed, I often think of the polio struggle as a time when we looked up for what is to come. The methods that were so successful in that polio challenge are now being applied to the greater challenges that lie ahead.

To accomplish what The National Foundation desires requires great men. We have had them in the past, and with them in the future and, with public contributions to the March of Dimes, those men will accomplish much for the good of mankind.

It is natural for the public to want immediate results. For the parents of a child afflicted with arthritis, for instance, to want quick cures is understandable. But we are trustees of public funds. We cannot spend those funds save for projects that have some promise of success, conducted by people who have shown what they can do.

If our aims in research could be summed up, I would say that The National Foundation operates like a rapier, not a bludgeon. We are selective. We put March of Dimes funds in the exact spot and under the specific man who will make
